

Course name	BAC designation	Teaching Institution (TI)	TI course designation	Start Date	End Date	Credits	Pre-requisites	Course description	Notes
Addictions Counseling Skills	Psychology 3xx	Indiana Wesleyan University	ACD310	7/13/21	8/16/21	3	None	This course is designed to familiarize the student with the eight practice dimensions necessary for effective performance as an addictions counselor: clinical evaluation; treatment planning; referral; service coordination; counseling; client, family and community education; documentation; and professional and ethical responsibilities. These dimensions along with their associated 12 core competencies, as defined by the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), are the established national standards for addiction counseling practice. These standards are also utilized by state and national addictions counselor certification/license examinations. In this course, the student will develop entry level knowledge and skills across the eight practice dimensions that will help ready them for entering the addictions counseling field. Considerable emphasis will be placed on evidenced-based practices.	Does not count toward the psychology major.
Advertising	Business 3xx	Ferrum College	Bus 304	6/28/21	7/30/21	3	Microeconomics	Designed to give the student a solid understanding of advertising as a business, as a marketing tool, and as a creative process. Topics to be covered include the economic and social aspects of advertising, advertising agencies, consumer behavior, marketing research, the creative aspects of advertising, and media types.
American Civil War	History 2xx	Indiana Wesleyan University	HST 234	7/13/21	8/16/21	3	None	This course is a detailed study of the Civil War. Students will explore antebellum American culture, the sectional crisis between the North and the South, and the role of Christianity in this era. Students will also learn about the important battles and military campaigns of the war, the nature of mid-19th century American warfare, social and political developments during the war, and the important personalities of the conflict.
China: History and Culture	History 2xx	Indiana Wesleyan University	HST 293	7/13/21	8/16/21	1	None	This course gives an overview of Chinese history. Particular emphasis given to religion, major events, and beliefs that fashioned the history of China. Students will gain an understanding of the role of China in the 21st Century.
Cross Cultural Psychology	Psychology 3xx	Baker College	Psy 3810	7/5/21	8/15/21	3	Developmental Psychology; Research Methods in Psychology	Examines how cultural and social structures influence thoughts, attitudes, and behaviors. Some topics include cultural identity development, group values, social and cultural aspects of various groups, and barriers to effective communication and collaboration. Different ethnic groups within Eastern and Western cultures will be explored. Recent psychological research relevant to cultural psychology will be explored. Strategies for improved understanding and productivity in our increasingly diverse world will be discussed. This course is exclusive to the Bachelor of Science in Psychology.	Does not count toward the psychology major.

Course name	BAC designation	Teaching Institution (TI)	TI course designation	Start Date	End Date	Credits	Pre-requisites	Course description	Notes
Entrepreneurial Mindset	Business 2xx	University of Pikeville	BUS 206	7/7/21	8/2/21	3	None	This foundation course in entrepreneurship explores entrepreneurial thinking and behavior. The class introduces entrepreneurship as an approach to life and one's career. It examines the nature of entrepreneurship and the entrepreneur, contemplating the role of entrepreneurship in society. The key focus is on entrepreneurship as a process which anyone can master. The course is designed around the major stages in this process. An overview of factors which are crucial to entrepreneurial success and how to approach these issues is provided. This course fulfills the Personal Place requirement in the General Education Curriculum.
Entrepreneurship	Business 3xx	Indiana Wesleyan University	Eco 300	7/13/21	8/16/21	3	Any economics course	Provides greater understanding of political and economic conditions for entrepreneurial activities to enhance an understanding of risk, uncertainty, and markets, and the motivations and influence of the legal system within which an economy works. The problems of starting a new business, obtaining sufficient capital, and bringing a new business to success will be examined.
Ethics in Criminal Justice	Political Science 3xx	Lee University	CRJU 378	6/29/21	8/16/21	3	None	This course is an analysis of contemporary ethical issues in crime and justice.
Intermediate Spanish I	Spanish 2xx	Valparaiso University	SPAN 203	6/28/21	8/5/21	4	Spanish 102	SPAN 203 Intermediate Spanish I is the third course in the Spanish language sequence. In it, you will continue developing communicative skills in Spanish, and will use those skills to expand your knowledge of the cultures of the Spanish-speaking world. The course follows a communicative approach, which means that class time will be mostly devoted to interaction and conversation via group activities in Spanish. By the end of the semester, you should be able to communicate in Spanish about a wide variety of topics including nature and the environment; personality and identity traits; music, cinema, and sports; and health and wellbeing. Course meeting time: Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday 10 AM - 12:15 PM CST.
Introduction to Social Work	Elective	Defiance College	SWK 121	6/28/21	8/6/21	3	None	An introduction to the understanding of the concept of the social work profession, its significance in society, its history, and its place among the helping professions. The study of the goals, values, knowledge base, methods, and settings of social work. The beginning of the professionalization process.	Does not count toward the psychology major.
Introduction to Social Work	Elective	Indiana Wesleyan University	SWK 170	7/12/21	8/23/21	3	None	This course is an introduction to the field of social work and social welfare, including concepts fundamental to the understanding of the social work profession and the efforts of social work on behalf of oppressed populations.	Does not count toward the psychology major.
Introduction to Statistics	Mathematics 130	Saint Leo University	Mat 201	6/28/21	8/22/21	3	Finite Mathematics or College Algebra or Higher	Development of the fundamental statistical methods, including graphs, measures of central tendency and variation. Inferential statistics includes a basic review of the concepts of probability, binomial probability, normal distribution, CLT, confidence intervals, hypothesis testing, regression analysis, and correlation. Use of statistical software packages. Applications to business, social science, education, and environmental science.	Open to students with demonstrated schedule conflicts or who have previously taken Math 130 and not passed.

Course name	BAC designation	Teaching Institution (TI)	TI course designation	Start Date	End Date	Credits	Pre-requisites	Course description	Notes
Introduction to Statistics	Mathematics 130	Dominican College	MA 225	6/29/21	8/18/21	3	None	The nature and scope of statistical inquiries; collection and presentation of data; descriptive methods with particular reference to frequency distribution analysis, central tendency, and dispersion; probability distributions; statistical inference and sampling methods; estimation theory; tests of hypotheses; regression and correlation.	Open to students with demonstrated schedule conflicts or who have previously taken Math 130 and not passed.
Medical Sociology	Sociology 3xx	Walsh University	SOC 311	7/6/21	8/21/21	3	None	Explores the history and development of health care and social epidemiology; interrelationships occurring among conventional and alternative healers; impact of gender, race and social class on health care; social construction of health and illness behaviors; health care practitioner's relationship with patients; social implications of advanced health care technologies; medical ethics.
Medical Terminology	Biology 2xx	Valparaiso University	KIN 250	6/28/21	8/6/21	3	None	This course provides an opportunity for students to understand medical terminology using a step by step process which includes pronunciation, spelling, and application of terms. This online classroom course is specifically designed to improve vocabulary skills. and prepare students for advanced professional preparation courses by incorporating content taught in advanced medical and scientific courses.
Prevention and Care: Recognition of Athletic Injuries	Biology 2xx	Charleston Southern University	KINE 224	6/28/21	8/15/21	3	Anatomy and Physiology	This course focuses on the knowledge and skills used in the prevention, recognition, evaluation, and care of athletic related injuries and conditions. This course cannot be challenged.
Principles of Human Nutrition	Nutrition 110	Cedar Crest College	NTR 210	6/29/21	8/9/21	3	Intro to Biology or Human Anatomy and Physiology or Chemistry I	The basic principles of human nutrition are investigated, emphasizing the nutrients, food sources, and their utilization in the body for growth and health throughout life. This course also assesses contemporary nutrition issues. Audits are not available for labs, field experiences or clinicals in the Nutrition department.	Open to students with demonstrated schedule conflicts or who have previously taken Nutrion 110 and not passed.
Small Business Management	Bus 3xx	North Carolina Wesleyan College	BUS 370	6/28/21	8/20/21	3	Any economics course	Survey of the small business in the private sector; the role of small business in the American economy; financial, marketing, and operations issues; the business plan; small business in the international environment; case studies.	